

ABSTRACT

METHOD FOR FILLING A CONTACT HOLE AND INTEGRATED CIRCUIT ARRANGEMENT WITH CONTACT HOLE

A method in which a base layer is deposited in a contact hole region under a protective gas, where base layer contains a nitride as main constituent. After the deposition of the base layer, a covering layer is deposited under gaseous nitrogen. An adhesion promoting layer results which is simple to produce and has good electrical properties.